Measures for students

- Your teachers are requested to support you by phone or online from now on.
- In accordance with the decree, the university may no longer conduct any examinations until further notice. Once the measures imposed have been lifted, a decision on how to proceed may be taken. Please be patient, as no further information is available at the moment.
- The Rectorate will decide on deadlines for submission of examination papers in a timely manner; it is intended to make accommodating arrangements.
- If you have urgent questions, please contact the student service at cis@hfm-detmold.de or studium@hfm-detmold.de.

The following requests have been made to your teachers:

- Your teachers have been asked to get in touch with you. Please make mutual arrangements at the beginning of the summer semester as to how distance learning may be used for your studies in view of the restrictions. There will certainly be a lot of creative potential in this respect, and the Rectorate will collect ideas and make suggestions in the next few days.

At the very end of this text, you will find initial recommendations for digitally supported teaching.
